FUNERAL OF JAMES R. DICKSON

Dr. McLeod Conducted Services at the Residence.

The funeral of the late James R. Dickson was held yesterday afternoon from the family residence on Quincy Avenue, and burial was made in the Dunmore cemetery. Heart-breaking, indeed, was the final scene, where the father and brother, crushed with grief, and the sister, so doubly bereaved in the past year, were surrounded with a multitude of weeping friends who deplored this calamity.

The funeral services were conducted at the residence, which was fairly blooming with flowers, the last tribute to the young man whose life was so like a flower in its beauty.

Rev. Dr. McLeod made brief remarks, in which he spoke with emotion of the dead, who, he said, deserved the title of a model young man. The sudden Providence which had removed him from earth would not be understood until the day of clear vision, when sorrow shall be interpreted and the night of gloom be transformed into sunshine.

"A life of such character," said the doctor, "though put out in sudden death, must be said to be absent from the body, but present with the Lord."

A pathetic feature of the services was the singing by Miss Pomeroy, of Troy, Pa., of the last song which James Dickson heard in life. It was a sad little song from the German, "Conceal Those Homes" to which he had listened the night before, when calling at the home of Dr. McLeod, where Miss Pomeroy has been a guest. John T. Watkins sang "My Redeemer" by Dudley Buck.

Among those attending the funeral were many men connected with the Hillside Coal and Iron company offices. These offices were all closed in deference to the deceased. The honorary pall-bearers were from the engineer corps to which he belonged. They were: H. E. Yewans, A. E. Yetter, J. W. Page, Simon F. Williams, Matthew Jeffrey, J. R. Travis. The active bearers were Princeton men, colleagues of Mr. Dickson. They were: H. C. Cochrane and Clarence Hastings, of New York; Harry W. Lathrop, George Haines Lathrop, Harold Waters, and Frank Linsen, of this city. Interment was made in Dunmore. Director Price was in charge of the funeral.

Among the out-of-town friends present were: Rev. and Mrs. James Stuart Dickson and son, of Philadelphia; Rev. and Mrs. Spencer Dickson, Miss Mitchell, of Mt. Carmel; Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Wilson, Thomas Wilson, of Binghamton; Miss Julia Hickok, of Marietta; Miss Roe, of Philadelphia; Mrs. David Stone and son, of Wilkes-Barre.

FOUR MURDER CASES ARE ON TRIAL LIST

Next Term of Criminal Court Opens Monday, June 2, and Continues for Two Weeks.

Four murder cases are on the list for the June session of criminal court, which opens Monday, June 2 and continues two weeks. Three of the cases are those in which Special Officers Sylvester F. FOUR SUSPICIOUS CASES.

House of Reuben Robbins, of Academy Street, Is Quarantined.

Four suspicious cases, thought to be smallpox, were reported yesterday to the bureau of health, in the family of Reuben Robbins, 1308 Academy street, and in consequence the house was quarantined to await further developments.

The cases were reported by Dr. Walker, and the bureau physician, Dr. Houser, was notified to take charge of the cases. The father, mother and two children are reported to be afflicted, but as the symptoms are not fully developed as yet, there is room for doubt. To be on the safe side, however, Dr. Allen ordered the house quarantined, and all necessary precautions taken to prevent any possible spread of the disease.

PREPARING FOR CONCLAVE

CITY IS PUTTING ON ITS HOLIDAY ATTIRE.

Buildings Are Being Decorated as Rapidly as the Work Can Be Done. Headquarters and Bureau of Information Will Be in the Westminster Hotel Building—Four Formal Receptions on Monday Night—Programme That Will Be Observed at the Public Installation.

The work of decorating for the Knights Templar conclave to be held here next Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday, is proceeding rapidly. The court house, Hotel Jermyn and a great many smaller buildings have been decorated and the central city in consequence has already assumed a holiday appearance. The grandstand at court house square is also being erected.

The elaborate character of the decorations that are going up is very gratifying to the executive committee of the local commanderies. Chairman C. D. Sanderson said, yesterday, that from what is now visible and what has come to him privately regarding contemplated decorations, the city will next week be more lavishly bedecked than it ever was before in its history.

The electrical illuminations are being put in place at the army. This work will be completed today, and tonight the current will be turned on in the presence of the committee, that they may see what the setting of the grand ball and turn out is like.

Owing to the fact that Wyoming avenue in front of the Equity building is littered with building material, it was decided, yesterday, to change the committee headquarters and bureau of information from Chairman Sanderson's office to the vacant ground-floor room in the Westminster hotel building, 219 Wyoming avenue.

TWENTY BANDS.

From tabulations completed yesterday, it was ascertained that thirty commanderies will attend during the three days with practically full membership. Twenty of them will bring bands. A close estimate puts the number of visitors at 3,000, divided as follows: Sir knights, 1,800; ladies, 700; bandmen, 500.

Every band engaged for Tuesday morning's parade has been furnished with the music of a medley comprising "Onward Christian Soldier," and "Ave Marie," which is to be played by the bands en masse in passing the reviewing stand. There will be forty bands in the group. The knights will follow in massed formation with all banners and flags, and standards assembled.

Four formal receptions are to be held Monday night. The commandery of Philadelphia, will hold forth at St. Luke's parish house, Wyoming avenue. Kadosh commandery, of Philadelphia, will be at the Westminster hotel building. Dieu le Veut commandery, of Wilkes-Barre, will receive at Guernsey hall, and the A. A. A. commandery, of Philadelphia, at Hotel Jermyn.

The music for the ball Tuesday night will be furnished by Bauer's and Lawrence's bands. At 8:30 o'clock there will be a band concert, the bands giving alternate selections. The grand march will take place at 9 o'clock. There are forty dance numbers on the programme. The even numbers will be played by Lawrence, and the odd by Bauer.

The arrangements for the management of the carriages at the ball have been placed in the hands of H. S. Gorman. He requests that drivers on arriving at the army shall drive to the Adams avenue entrance facing north, and that on leaving the army they shall drive to the entrance from the north.

It was learned yesterday that every room in every hotel in the city has been engaged for the first three days of next week. A representative of a Philadelphia hotel, who was in the city yesterday, looking for quarters for the members of the command was informed at every hotel that cots in the halls are all that can be secured. One hotel wanted $5 per day per man for even this sleeping privilege.

WEDDED FIFTY YEARS.

Rev. and Mrs. Joseph Madison Celebrate Their Anniversary.

Rev. Joseph Madison and wife celebrated the fiftieth anniversary of their wedding yesterday, at their home on Olive street. Greatly beloved in Elm Park church, as in all the communities where they have lived, this devoted pair in the evening of their lives were affectionately remembered by their friends.

Rev. Joseph Madison and Phoebe Wallace were united in matrimony by Rev. Henry Needie, May 22, 1852. If there is anything in a name, they were well joined together. A needle and thread imply a binding together.

On the fiftieth anniversary of their wedding day, Dr. C. M. Giffin, pastor of Elm Park church, and wife came to the Madison residence, 723 Olive street, and in behalf of his congregation presented the bridegroom with a golden orange in the form of a bank containing ten five-dollar gold coins, after which Mrs. Giffin, in a pleasing manner, handed the bride a jewel box, and on opening it found five ten-dollar gold pieces, making the bride equal to the bridegroom.

The children of Mr. and Mrs. Madison remembered their parents with a purse of $25. The only relatives present were Mrs. Pascoe, their daughter, and Miss Louise, their granddaughter.

A number of friends of the couple came in the afternoon and congratulated them; after which they were served light refreshments.

Mr. and Mrs. Madison wish, through the press, to thank all who contributed so liberally to the occasion.

ROOT HOLLOW HAS TROUBLES OF ITS OWN

Matrimonial Mix-Up That Is a Record Breaker—Causes the Arrest of One Man for Bigamy.

Root Hollow, in Wyoming county, has a matrimonial mix-up that is causing all kinds of conjecture and excitement in that quiet community.

Sixteen years ago Miss Ida Cooper, of Root Hollow, was wooed, won and wedded by George Camp, of Lemon, also in Wyoming county. A daughter was born to them, who lives with the mother in the Hollow. About a year after the marriage, Camp disappeared and about eleven years ago his wife was notified by his mother that he had died in a Western state.

Mrs. Camp supposed herself a widow, and when some time later, George Allen asked her if she would, she said yes and she was married for the second time.

Several children resulted from this union and everything went well until last summer, when Allen left his wife and last November married Alice Capwell, a widow, without the formality of securing a divorce.

Yesterday Mrs. Camp-Allen appeared before Justice of the Peace W. S. Kutz, of Tunkhannock, and swore out a warrant for the arrest of Allen on a charge of bigamy. At the hearing, Allen called several of his relatives, who testified that he is not dead and that he paid a visit to friends at Factoryville last winter. Upon this showing, Allen was discharged and a search is now to be made for Camp.

Mrs. Camp-Allen has two families, but no husband and Allen has two wives, one real and the other only an alleged widow.

PROPERTY OWNERS TO RESIST PAYMENT

Believe That Under Sturges Decision the North Main Avenue Pave Is Unjust.

A number of North Main avenue property owners yesterday took legal steps to resist the payment of the portion of the cost assessed against them, on the ground that the assessment was not properly made, inasmuch as it provides not only for the payment of the cost of the pave, but for keeping it in repair for a period of ten years.

The Supreme court decided in the Sturges case recently that the city cannot ask the property owner to assume the cost of keeping the pave in repair, which it virtually does when it makes the contract with the understanding that they must keep the pave in repair for a specified length of time.

Those who began proceedings yesterday were William Bright, Chas. P. Reese, Edward Roderick and the Uriah McDonnell estate. The latter has two cases. All of the above are represented by Attorneys H. S. Alworth and Charles E. Oliver. City Solicitor Watson, when seen after the suits were begun, said:

"It was between $40,000 and $50,000 still due on the North Main avenue pave, but this amount is protected by liens. The people of that thoroughfare wanted a pave, they were given a pave and I say to you that they will pay for that pave. The litigants are looking for a loophole to escape the payment of the share of that great improvement. They will be convinced later that they cannot avoid the payment of a just claim in that way."

Maxwell Shepherd, of Carbondale, again took fourth place away from Herbert Thompson, of the same city, yesterday, in The Tribune's Educational Contest. Both of these young men are having a strenuous time over that position, each having held it twice this week. Only two points now separate them.

Harry Madden, of Scranton, went from eighth to seventh place and is now but 9 points behind Freedman, who holds sixth position. L. E. Stanton made another big jump, going from twenty-first to fourteenth place. If he keeps up his present pace he will be with the leaders in a short time.

Seven of the contestants made returns yesterday. Burns having the largest number of points, 184. The other six were: Madden, 12; Roddicks, 12; Stanton, 10; Kellerman, 6; Shepherd, 5; C. W. Dorsey, 1.

The entry list is open for all who desire to gain by the effort of a single summer's work. Particulars can be gleaned by reading the advertisement on the fourth page.

A BIG SEASON ASSURED.

Lodore Will Be the Mecca for Excursionists the Coming Season.

All indications point to Lake Lodore as the most popular of all excursion resorts for the fast-approaching season, and to even surpass its immense business of last year. The individual excursionist prefers a lake resort, and the scenic beauties of Lodore itself, its far-spreading grove, incomparable dance pavilion, its merry-go-round, the delight of the children, its well-equipped kitchens, clam oven, refreshment booths, Spalding ball grounds, naphtha launches, steamer, large excursion boat and varied other amusements render it a summer paradise, and at the same time the most profit-making resort for churches and societies. There are some splendid dates left, for the privilege of which please apply to W. L. Fryor, district passenger agent, Delaware and Hudson Railroad, Scranton, Pa.

BIRD'S PECULIAR DEATH.

Big Hen Hawk Dashed Its Life Out Against Brick Wall.

While the servant girl employed by William J. Shiffer, of 123 Mifflin avenue, was hanging out some clothes yesterday afternoon, a big bird, emulating the blackbird in "Sing a Song of Sixpence," swooped down upon her at a furious rate. It struck the clothesline and then dashed full against the rear wall of the Elks' building, having apparently been unable to stop its flight in time.

It crushed its life out, and when the body was examined it was found to be that of a hen hawk and one of the largest of its species ever seen by several local taxidermists who viewed it. The wings measured five feet across from tip to tip.
